MUCH WORK HAS BEEN DONE BY THE COURT

The United States marshal's office has its hands full at this time as thirty-two prisoners are soon to be delivered at McNeill's Island. Through the courtesy of Deputy Marshal Goode, the following recapitulation of the work done by the last session of criminal affairs in the United States district court has been secured:

Sixty-three cases were presented to the grand jury and 61 indictment were returned. Of these one was a postoffice forgery, one a rape case and 61 were cases of furnishing liquor to Indians. The grand jury ignored two cases. Thirty-nine of the accused entered a plea of guilty and 21 stood trial, which resulted in 18 being found guilty by the trial juries and four acquitted.

Seventeen were sentenced to serve time in the Washoe county jail, three in the Ormsby jail, three in the Nevada state prison, three at the reform school at Boonville, Mo., and 22 at McNeill's Island. One of the guilty ones is in the Washoe county hospital awaiting sentence.

MANY DIVORCES TAKING PLACE IN CALIFORNIA

While Nevada is being criticised for her over-crowded divorce courts, it may not be amiss to glance at the recent history of our sister state across the Sierras. The report of Francis M. Moody, secretary of the commission on marriage and divorce of California, contains some startling figures.

It shows that during the last five years 16,775 divorced persons, 60 per cent of the total, have remarried, and in one-half to two-thirds of these cases the ceremony was performed by a clergyman. The report shows that in Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties the percentage of divorces remarried was even higher, reaching 68 per cent. In those three counties during the five years there were 7100 divorces and 4848 remarriages.

MATRIMONY TO BE TAUGHT IN HIGH SCHOOL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—A course in matrimony is included in the curriculum at the Gardena Agricultural High school. While partly hidden under the name of "household economics," five classes of girls daily take advantage of instruction in the care of babies, mothercraft and domestic economy. Boys will be given a somewhat similar course, beginning next year.

The girls are taught such pie-bean matters as how plumbers are supposed to do their work and are shown in cash just how much plumbers should be paid.

A DIVIDEND.

Yesterday Attorney Sanford, for the defunct Rawhide bank filed a report with Referee Poulade, setting forth that a dividend of 30 cents on the deposits was ready for disbursement. It is probable that another small dividend will follow later. This is a pretty good showing for a bank that was supposed to be absolutely looted.
